7. Association Activities in 2005

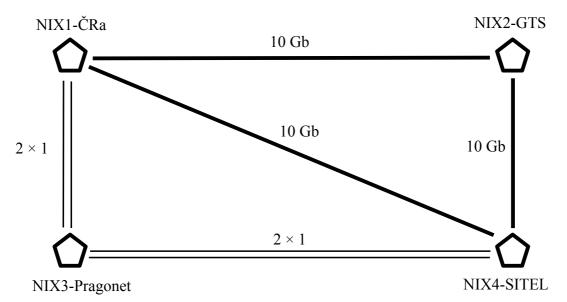

Technical solution

The total amount of aggregated data traffic going through the interconnection nodes of the Association increased above 10 Gb/s in December 2005, i.e., doubled in the last year.

The capacity of backbone interconnections between nodes NIX1, NIX2 and NIX4 has been increased to 10 Gb/s; the connection of node NIX3 to 2 Gb/s.

The following diagram shows the infrastructure as of the end of 2005.

The backbone platform is a series of CISCO 6500 switches. In the NIX1, NIX2 and NIX4 nodes, connection lines with a throughput capacity of up to 10 Gb/s are supported. NIX3, whose utilisation is the lowest, is an exception; its switch only enables connection lines of up to 1 Gb/s.

Node NIX4 has been developing most quickly; nearly 2/3 of the NIX data flow goes through this node. The lowest data flow goes through NIX3 – less than 1/10.

The NIX.CZ interconnection technology remains on the link layer (Ethernet). The Association operates its 6881 autonomous system on the CISCO 7300 platform.

The Association continues to enable its members and customers to be interconnected using the IPv6 protocol. This connection is implemented within the same VLAN as IPv4; this fact enables the members and customers to operate routers and interfaces in a double protocol buffer mode. As of the end of 2005, 12 IPv6 networks have been interconnected, which is stagnation with respect to 2004 (11 networks).

In the autumn of 2005, a new paid service was introduced by the Association – the optional installation of secondary nameservers for operators of Top Level Domains (TLD). Installation of the first secondary nameservers for the EU and BE TLDs is expected in January 2006.

In 2005, the Association was further improving its own system for infrastructure monitoring, developed in 2003; it is predominantly used for diagnostics of interconnection problems, and for the monitoring of operational discipline.

In the autumn of 2005, the Association approved an amended text of its Operating Rules, containing some fundamental changes in the area of access to the NIX nodes and installation of customer/member technology.

Association's Public Relations

In 2005, the Association focused on two areas in public relations: The first area is concerned with informing the professional public about the Association's activities on the Czech market. The main communication channels for that purpose were the Association's website and press releases.

In the autumn of 2005, the Association organised the first informal meeting of its members in its history – the Club Evening.

The second one was aimed at informing foreign ISPs about the Association's activities and persuading such subjects to use the Association's services. The main communication channels for that purpose were the Association's website, and also updated presentations at RIPE conferences in the EIX-WG workgroup and at Euro-IX meetings.

In the autumn of 2005, the NIX Association organised in Prague the seventh EURO-IX Forum and the ninth General Meeting of EURO-IX. The participants' statements on the site and written questionnaires value this last Forum as the most successful one so far.

8. Strategic Goals for 2006

In 2006, the Board of Directors and the Association Director will work in the following areas in addition to the normal operational issues:

- The task given by the General Meeting of November 2005 analysis of NIX monitoring 7/24/365, specifications of functionality and identification of outsourcing options for monitoring;
- Amendment to the Articles of Association to better reflect the current situation and role of the NIX.CZ Association;
- Amendments to the Operating Rules;
- Concept of the number of nodes reduction r extension to additional localities;
- Security of NIX nodes, access, technology backup;
- Outlook for future technology and investment strategy in 2007;
- Cooperation with other IX associations, specifically, sharing know-how and technology;
- Active participation in EURO-IX;
- Cooperation with important associations active in the field of the Internet in the Czech Republic;
- Cooperation with international organisations active in the field of the Internet;
